Israel Asks U.S. For Arms

Egypt Threatens To Make More Red Weapons Deals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israel formally asked Wednesday for U.S. arms at cut-rate prices on easy payment terms. Egypt promptly protested that this would start a Middle East arms race and lose America the friendship of Arabs.

Israel's Ambassador Abba Eban told the State Department his country urgently needs defense weapons. He said Israel has a "sense of alarming vulnerability" arising from Egypt's purchases of Communist arms.

But 5½ hours later Egypt's Ambassador Ahmed Hussein turned up at the State Department to say:

"We believe Israel doesn't need American arms. We need arms ourselves for defense."

Hussein told George V. Allen, assistant secretary for Middle East affairs, that "Egypt may be compelled" to make more arms deals with the Communists.

The State Department issued statements saying Israel's request had been taken under consideration and Egypt's protest had been noted.

But the department stood by recent expressions of President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles that the solution of Middle East problems lies in "agreement between the parties" and not in an arms race.

To Hussein, the department said that:

"Mr. Allen repeated that the United States would be favorably inclined toward anything which led toward peace in the area and would view with grave disapproval anything which might lead to hostilities there."

Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr., who talked with Eban, reminded the Israeli diplomat that the United States is still waiting to hear how his country feels about United Nations peace proposals.

Neither Israel nor Egypt has formally replied to a U. S. request Nov. 5 for a statement of intentions toward proposals carried to the troubled Middle East by Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, U.N. truce chief.

The Burns proposals call for withdrawal of Israeli and Egyptian troops from the El Auja demilitarized zone, freedom for U.N. inspection teams to patrol the area and meetings to try to draw a permanent boundary line.

Eban declined to detail the list of weapons he wants to buy from the United States.

Published reports have said Egypt's deal is for $80 million dollars in guns, tanks, jet planes and submarines — reportedly at discount prices ranging as low as 5 per cent of what the United States charges for comparable equipment.

Eban, in asking for arms, requested "most lenient consideration of credit and price."

U. S. officials said the mutual defense, cash-on-barrelhead agreement under which Israel filed its request apparently rules out cut rate prices.

OVER-ZEALOUS OFFICERS

TORONTO (CP) — Goetz Koechlin, 20-year-old German immigrant, told the judge he was walking peacefully along the road, minding his own business, when two plainclothes detectives stopped him and asked his name and address. "What's your?" he asked right back.

They flashed a police badge but refused to give him their names. A scuffle ensued and Koechlin was taken to the Scarborough district police station, charged with assault and locked in a cell.

"Case dismissed," said Magistrate O. M. Martin. "No officer is entitled to have these facts given him by the ordinary citizens walking along the street."

Graham Spends Time In Jail Reading Novels

DENVER (CP) — John Gilbert Graham, charged with the bomb plot explosion of a plane which killed his mother and 43 others, spent Wednesday reading paper-backed novels and asking jail guards to hurry up his meals.

At home, his shaken, tearful wife said "I still love him and I'm right behind him."

Graham, 23, a tall, sallow drive-in restaurant operator will be arraigned Thursday on a charge of murdering his mother, Mrs. Daisey King, 54, who died in the time-bomb blast of a United Air Lines plane Nov. 1 near Longmont, Colo. Dist. Atty Bert Keating said he would ask the death penalty.

Mrs. Gloria Graham, 22, mother of two small children, in her first public statement since the arrest of her husband said "I'm not going to believe a thing until I see Jack."

'Keeping 'Em Down On Farm' Not Wise Plan, Kline Warns

CHICAGO (CP) — A farm group officially Wednesday warned against and job placement services. "This makes better sense" he said "for them for other farmers and for America."

Farmers are not in as "bad shape" as farm price and cost statistics suggest, he said.

"Operators" net income is also affected by efficiency. Production per man in agriculture has been rising 4 per cent a year since 1940" he said.

"Compared to 25 years ago 34 per cent fewer farmers working fewer hours produce 54 per cent more."

Kline said the average net income per farmer is materially higher than in 1950. "This is not to say that it is good but only that some of the use of statistics is loose and misleading."

"We as an organization of farmers recognize that prosperity for farmers is only possible as part of prosperity for others" he said.

"We do not seek a closed shop in American agriculture. Neither do we intend to condone restrictive or monopolistic practices which close the door of opportunity to our people."

Kline said these families should be helped with vocational training and job placement services. "This makes better sense" he said "for them for other farmers and for America."

The glittery dook, often reserved for holidays only, is everywhere this year. Gold and silver shine on dresses, shoes, hats and gloves. The Oriental influence, including woven metallic threads for the "cloth of gold" look, is a vibrant influence on dress-up fashions.

Fortunately, the golden touch is more practical than it used to be. Such fashions used to mean "wear 'em until they're dirty," then throw them out. Some, notably the metallic threads of the '30s or thereabout, developed an awful odor with wear. Now, fabric makers have conquered these difficulties and the gold look is odorless and, best of all, much of it is washable.

Naturally, these fabrics that are marked washable don't go into the machine. They should be dipped in and out of suds, not rubbed, wrung or twisted. They should be hung to drip dry. When dry, they should be pressed with a cool iron, with a sheet of clean tissue paper in between as a pressing cloth.

It is more essential than ever to save the washing instructions that come with these clothes. If, by chance, those tags are missing from some of the garments when you're buying, be sure to pick one that has a tag.

Many of the gold touched cottons, cotton-acetates, nylons and other blends can be washed in the same manner as the unadorned fabric. But gold-woven scarves, hostess aprons, overskirts, blouses and dresses of the more fragile fabrics need the gentlest of washing. One rule that applies to all glittery fashions is "wash quickly when they get soiled or the dirt will become ingrained."

LUCIANO, 1955 — Almost never photographed these days, former U.S. vice czar Lucky Luciano appears conspicuously dressed in this new picture, taken recently in Naples, Italy, where he now operates an electrical-medical appliances shop. Luciano, deported by the U.S. in 1946 for his activities as "vice czar" of New York, claims he is going "straight" in Naples.

The show has been on the air less than six months but already the task of finding contestants is getting tough.

It takes more than 50 people to put the show together and stage it each week, from Emcee Hal March to models and bank guards. A total of $231,584 has been given away in the first 2 weeks—plus four Cadillacs as consolation prizes.

The success of the show has not been lost on other TV entrepreneurs. A rival, "The Big Surprise," already offers a possible $100,000 for the right answer, and what may come next nobody knows. There's talk in the trade of a million dollar giveaway.

Ever wonder how cooks make those big wide carrot curls? The trick is to cut a large carrot in half lengthwise; then cut thin lengthwise strips of carrot, starting from the cut side and using a swivel-blade vegetable parer. The carrot strips are then rolled up, fastened with toothpicks and given an icy bath for a couple of hours so they will crisp and stay in shape. Remove toothpicks before serving. With a sprig or two of parsley, the carrot curls make attractive garnishes for luncheon sandwiches.

Baby turkey may be split and broiled over coals. Brush the turkey meat with a mixture of melted butter, lemon juice and seasonings as it cooks.

Success Of TV's '$64,000 Question' Depends More On Contestant's Personality Than Money

(ADVANCE AMS SUNDAY)

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP) — The main "screeners" for the television show, "$64,000 Question," are two attractive young women who dive into a sea of letters every day, looking for human pearls.

Right now, they are looking for some very specific pearls, such as—

A waiter who knows about art. A college professor with an encyclopedic knowledge of newspaper comics.

A bartender, or perhaps a tug-boat captain, who is an expert on Shakespeare or the classics.

A pretty, personable, young girl who is an expert on practically anything.

"No doubt all those people are in there somewhere," said Roselle Barnhard, gesturing toward the overflowing boxes of unopened mail.

"All you have to do is find them," added her colleague, Evelyn Levin.

With some staff assistance, Miss Levin and Miss Barnhard try to get through some 15,000 letters a week (producers' estimate) that the show draws. Most of these are from people who want a crack at the prizes.

And most of them can be dismissed, virtually at a glance. The "screeners" are looking for particular qualifications.

For example, they are looking for the paradox, the switch, the person with a field of special knowledge far removed from his regular work. Thus, the clergyman whose hobby is jazz music, the Marine captain who experts on food and wine, the policeman who knows Shakespeare, and so on.

"You could have a history professor answering questions on history," said Mert Koplin, associate producer of the show, "or a professional art critic on painting. "But get, say, a writer or a tug-boat captain who is an expert in these fields, and you've really got something."

Even more important, Miss Levin and Miss Barnhard are eternally searching for that indefinable quality called "charm." They are anxious to be charmed. When they find a person who dazzles them with glamor and attractiveness, they go home with a sense of accomplishment.

But this isn't as easy as it sounds. So, even in a letter, they quickly spot the professional quiz contestant, the show-off, the ham.

If the letter interests them, they put in a telephone call.

Then the screeners begin asking questions.

"Frankly," Miss Levin said, "what a person says is less important to us than the way he or she says it. We are looking for people who are warm and articulate, people who come over in an interesting manner."

Steven Frohlich, the Czech refugee who appeared on "64" for the first time two weeks ago, is a case in point.

First, the switch. Here is a man who has been in the United States only a few years but knows more about its history than the vast majority of native Americans. His actual work is not in any way connected with history or anything else academic. He sells seeds.

Second, personality.

Miss Barnhard put through the call to Frohlich's home in Princeton, N.J. The letter first interested her. When she talked to him on the phone, she found, "He is charming, responsive, and articulate." When he came to New York for a personal interview, the earlier impressions were confirmed.

The two screeners reason that if a person can charm them, most likely he will charm the television audience as well.

The next step is the interview with Koplin, the associate producer, and then another interview with Steve Carlin, executive producer.

The show has been on the air less than six months but already the task of finding contestants is getting tough.

It takes more than 50 people to put the show together and stage it each week, from Emcee Hal March to models and bank guards.

Pekin Couple Wed Saturday In Virginia

VIRGINIA — At a single ring ceremony in the Virginia Methodist parsonage, Mrs. Marian Stoll of Pekin became the bride of Frederick O. Hall, also of Pekin.

The couple was attended by Mrs. Stoll's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Smith of Bloomington. The Rev. Floyd Brewer, pastor of the Methodist church, conducted the ceremony.

Beardstown Couple Wed

Saturday at 12:30 noon, justice of the peace John A. Sinclair performed a marriage ceremony uniting James E. Johnson, 76, and Mrs. Zelma Lane, 50, both of Beardstown. The ceremony was performed in the office of Justice Sinclair. Witnesses to the marriage were Arthur and Ruth Johnson of Beardstown. The couple will reside in Beardstown.

The Capsule Sisters of the local Christian church have announced a bake sale to be held in the Massie furniture store Saturday afternoon, Nov. 19. The proceeds will be used by the sisters to pay their church pledge. It has been their custom for a number of years to hold a Thanksgiving dinner and bazaar, but this year they will conduct only a bake sale to help raise funds for the pledge.

Officers Chosen

The Providence Household Science Club, at the November meeting last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Ed Davis, elected officers for the coming year. Mrs. Edgar Thompson was chosen president, Mrs. Audace Herzberger vice president and Mrs. Russell Knight secretary-treasurer.

Kitchen arithmetic: a cup of medium white sauce will be enough for a seven-ounce can of tuna when you are planning to serve the fish creamed.

If you buy a full-cut leg of lamb you can have it cut into lamb steaks, lamb roast, and chunks of meat for lamb stew.

AAUW To Honor Senior Women Of Two Colleges

The annual meeting of the American Association of University Women at which the senior women of Illinois College and MacMurray are guests will be held Saturday afternoon, Nov. 19, at 2:45 o'clock, in the social room of MacMurray College. Mrs. Nageswari Rajaratnam, an AAUW fellow from Ceylon, will be the guest speaker.

Mrs. Rajaratnam is spending this year as a graduate student at the University of Illinois. She taught mathematics to university entrance students at Ceylon University and is present a candidate for the M.A. in education at that university. She is active in teachers organizations and has published articles on Ceylon's educational problems. Mrs. Rajaratnam looks to scientific testing as an aid in solving some of these problems and is now working on a test designed to reveal intergroup tensions by measuring student reactions to word descriptions embodying typical Sinhalese and Tamil terms.

A special tea honoring the local college seniors will follow. The members of the tea committee are Mrs. Ralph Robbins (chairman), Mrs. Wendell Dysinger, Mrs. John Hackett, Miss Mabel Owsley, Mrs. Dale Holmes, Mrs. R. G. Anderson, Mrs. Richard Cutts, Mrs. Seymour Halligan, Miss Betty Loneragan, Miss Elizabeth Caldwell and Mrs. Paul Kel ler.

TV, Grandmothers, May Cause Tots To Have Colds

By FRANK CAREY

HOUSTON (AP) — Television and grandmothers could be indirect and innocent causes of recurrent "colds" in some children, the Southern Medical Assn. was told today.

Many kids watch TV while "lying on a rug," and mold and dust from a rug can touch off an "allergic" type cold in children sensitive to such material, Dr. Almon F. Halpern of Dallas told the group's 49th annual convention.

He said chemicals are available for spraying rugs and overstuffed furniture in the TV room, and these can "quite effectively control" harmful airborne materials.

As for grandma, he said while she might be up and around and apparently "healthy," she might also have chronic bronchitis which could make her a "healthy carrier" of germs which her grandchild could catch.

Halpern, speaking of certain children of preschool age who get a respiratory infection "about once a month," put it this way:

"The presence of a 'healthy' individual in the child's environment may be the sole cause of a recurring acute respiratory infection."

"This person may be a mother with a 'chronic sinus,' a grandmother with a chronic bronchitis, or an older sibling (brother or sister) who attends schools and who has frequent colds."

"In some instances we have had to treat the entire family with vaccine or sulfadiazine prophylactically before successfully controlling the child's infection."

He said the "vaccine" referred to is the so-called "cold shot" vaccine which includes various types of bacteria.

Sangamon Wins '55 Farm Sports Festival Award

CHICAGO (AP) — Sangamon County Farm Bureau today was awarded first place in the 1955 Illinois Farm Sports Festival, a program of recreational and athletic contests for farm families.

Otto Steffey, president of the Illinois Agricultural Assn., presented a plaque to R. H. Lanterman of Chat ham, president of the county group.

The IAA sponsors the festival in cooperation with the University of Illinois, county farm bureaus and other organizations. The four-day IAA convention will end Thursday.

Plaques were presented to these farm bureaus, in the order of their finish in the festival:

Vermilion, St. Clair, Grundy, Champaign, Adams, LaSalle, Kane, McHenry, Iroquois, Kankakee, Will and Effingham.

Held For Letter Demanding $10,000 Of Illinois Aunt

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Sammuel Dean Bryson, 24, pin setter in Reno bowling alley, was arrested by the Federal Bureau of Investigation Tuesday on charges of using the mails to extort.

FBI Agent A. Cornelius Jr. said the arrest was on a warrant charging that Bryson had mailed a letter to his aunt, Mrs. Arthur George Davis of Wood River, Ill., demanding $10,000 and threatening her with death if the amount was not paid.

Cornelius said Bryson used a fictitious name and directed that the money be mailed to that name in care of general delivery, Salt Lake City.

The FBI said Bryson's only previous police record was a 1953 sentence of one year in prison in East St. Louis, Ill., for draft evasion.

He came to Reno about Oct. 1 from Ogden, Utah.

CHROME-PLATED HYDRANT

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — This city now has one chrome-plated street fire hydrant.

It replaces one that was painted yellow, like all the others, in front of the La Jolla home of Dr. Edward Courtney, a dentist.

Dr. Courtney thought the yellow one was unsightly. He negotiated with the city water and fire departments to send the hydrant to the plating company.

The job cost him $200, plus a $22.50 city charge.

WHOLESALE FOOD PRICE UP

NEW YORK (AP) — For the first time in seven weeks there was a slight rise this week in wholesale food prices as measured by the Dun & Bradstreet index.

The index rose to $6.04 from $6.00 a week ago, which was the lowest level touched since June 20, 1950. A year ago the index stood at $6.88.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use.

MAGICIAN DIES AS TRICK FAILS

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) — Magician Ronald Frank was strangled to death while performing at a social function in Clarendon Village.

As part of his act, Frank placed a rope around his neck, gave the ends to 12 men and told them to pull. They pulled—apparently before he was ready for them. He died before the started crowd.

U. S. farmers sold 309 million dollars worth of hay in 1954.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
AP News Analyst

It will be interesting now to watch what the Russians do, or try to do, with their so-called "co-operation for peace" campaign.

Molotov killed it at Geneva. But will Bulgaria and Khrushchev bury it, or will they mummify it and try to keep it on display?

The just-ended meeting of foreign ministers has emphasized again there is an impenetrable wall between Russia and the Western Powers. Even the same words, as used by the two sides, mean different things, because they proceed from an entirely different basis of thought.

Even the mask of politeness, assumed by the parties before the summit meeting last summer, became a tattered thing as the foreign ministers neared the close of their sessions.

When Dulles twitted the Soviet foreign minister for fearing subversion of the Soviet people and his time is through outside contacts, he was running short. A demagogue, risking to take his place, might lead Molotov had just recently "confessed" at home that he had been extremely dangerous adventure, wrong in saying Russia was building one did not so many years ago, in setting up its Socialist system. And it might end in the same sort "in fact," it was already built of catastrophe for the world.

The big question now is what effect the failure will have on Germany. Will the Germans begin to feel that, since the Allies cannot obtain reunification, they had best see what they can do for themselves in direct dealing with Russia? Not while Adenauer is the boss. But Adenauer is an old man and his time is through short. A demagogue, risking to take his place, might lead the despairing Germans into an "in fact," it was already built of catastrophe for the world.

The tornado moved into the area from the southeast and toppled several barns in its path to the neighboring cities.

The U. S. Weather Bureau station at Cairo called the storm a "small tornado" pushed into the area by an advancing cold front.

High winds accompanied by heavy rain and hail touched most of southern Illinois Tuesday night. At Vandalia hundreds of downtown store windows were shattered in a brief but furious hailstorm. Winds of 40 miles an hour were reported.

The hailstorm reportedly covered an area east to Effingham and north to Mattoon.

More than two inches of hail fell on Mount Vernon and the southern half of Jefferson County was hard hit by hail.

Some 50 windows in a grade school at Odysseus were smashed, forcing the school to close today.

The Cairo Weather Bureau said southern Illinois is in for its first severe freeze tonight. Temperatures ranging from 15-20 were predicted.

Freak Storms Damage Several Illinois Towns

JONESBORO, Ill. (AP) — A small tornado dipped into Union County in southern Illinois today, leveled several buildings and left the area in a snarl of broken power and telephone lines.

No injuries were attributed to the storm which struck the county seat of Jonesboro about 2:15 a.m.

A one-story frame building housing the Jonesboro Fruit Growers Packing Co. was destroyed and a neighboring fruit storage bulk plant also was leveled.

Scores of garages and other small buildings were unroofed.

Electric power in neighboring Anna was out about six hours. Part of the roof of the town's Gulf Mobile & Ohio train station was blown across State Route 127, halting traffic.

The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. Catherine Gates. During the business session officers for the 1956 year were elected. Mrs. Judy conducted devotions using as her theme, "Streams in the Desert," scripture and stating that God bestows blessings on those who have extra burdens and have trust.

Mrs. Persis Gillham presented the program reading an article, "Women are People," from The Methodist Woman. She told of how Christ's coming had changed the status of women from unprivileged to an equal basis with men. Christ made no distinction between men and women. She closed with prayer.

Mrs. H. F. Keller gave a Thanksgiving poem and the program was dismissed with prayer by all.

During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostesses from an attractive tea table adorned with bright colored foliage and lighted candles. Mrs. Kruse poured. There were 23 present.

Handyman Admits Fatal Bludgeoning Of Runaway Boy

RHINEBECK, N. Y. (AP) — Authorities said today a private school handyman has confessed bludgeoning to death a boy who took refuge in the school barn two weeks after running away from home.

Dist. Atty. Raymond C. Baratta said Harvey William Lossee, 47, employed by the Anderson School, had been charged with first degree murder in the death of Gerald Foster, 13, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y. He was not a student at the school.

Baratta quoted Lossee as saying he found the youth sleeping in the barn Oct. 28 and ordered him to leave. The boy started to argue and Lossee struck him on the head with an iron pipe. Baratta said.

The boy had left his home in Poughkeepsie, Oct. 12. His body was found last Saturday in a wooded area of the school grounds.

Police Disperse Exiles Trying To Liberate Vlasov

PARIS, France (AP) — A band of Russian exiles tried to "liberate" Alexander V. Vlasov, dismissed architect of Moscow, when he arrived in Paris Tuesday night from America, but his companions and Paris police prevented it.

The exiles declared Vlasov was being taken back to Russia against his will and tried to get a statement from him. But members of his group kept the crowd away.

Vlasov visited the United States as a member of a delegation of architects looking at American housing developments.

While there he was advised that his government had dismissed him as chief architect of Moscow on the grounds he had gone in for expensive skyscrapers instead of more utility building.

The Soviet Embassy declined all comment on Vlasov.

CLOWNS OF THE SEA—A mother porpoise and her baby seem to be smiling as they nuzzle close in a big tank at the Seaquarium in Miami, Fla. They drew full house.

QUEENLY—Marie Worsham proudly wears her crown as "Wool Felt Queen." The New York miss represents the consumers and workers.

THESE SNAP UP AWARDS

HERE'S THE RECIPE for a $500 first prize in a national dog photo contest — just take a photogenic collie and put him in a field of daisies. If one is as good a photographer as George Sura of Worthington, O., he will come up with that top award. May Mirin of New York City finished in the runner-up spot with her unusually expressive photograph of a woman and her dog looking out of an apartment building. She netted the $250 prize. Hobart Fash of San Lorenzo, Calif., grabbed the third prize of $100 with a striking shot of a boy and his dog resting in culvert after a play session.

Coat Lines Are Slim And Straight

Fabulous furs show off slim lines, new colorings. Three-quarter length coat (left) in autumn haze mink mutation has deep vole collar that ties in front. The semi-fitted tunic silhouette (center) is used for a seven-eighths length coat with skins horizontally matched. There's a small shawl collar; sleeves are tapered. This is in desert gold mink mutation. Charcoal-dyed beaver (right) is used for full-length classic sports coat with flap pockets and bone button closing. There are more color choices in luxury furs this year than ever before. All designs are by Leo Ritter.

Trek Of Politicians To Johnson's Texas Ranch May Have Lot To Do With Democrats' Nominee

By DON WHITEHEAD

JOHNSON CITY, Texas (AP)—From a political base deep in the hills of central Texas, a strong influence is developing to present the Democratic party to the voters in 1956 as a "party of moderation" which rejects extremes.

This base is the ranch home of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson whose heart attack last July has not stopped him from charting in his convalescence the broad outlines of a course of action for his party in the months ahead.

They argue President Eisenhower's sweeping victory in 1952 reflected the temper of the nation and the people's desire for a steady course neither too far to the right nor too far to the left. In its fundamentals, the course they favor would roughly parallel the Eisenhower course in the sense of avoiding extremes.

These friends insist Johnson is seeking no sectional coalitions or alignments. They repeat earlier statements in which Johnson has said: "I'm not going to turn the Senate floor into a nominating convention or senators into precinct captains, even if I could."

But they concede that in taking the leadership in a move toward moderation, Johnson may become a rallying point for the "moderates" at the national convention.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) already has said it is a "reasonable assumption" that Western and Southern Democrats may join forces on a presidential candidate and platform in 1956. And then he added he would not discount the possibility that Johnson "might become a figure around whom Southern and Western Democrats could rally."

What effect would such a development have on the choice of a nominee? Would it become an effort to stop Adlai Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic nominee, or Gov. Averell Harriman of New York?

Johnson disclaims any interest in stopping anyone, and southern politicians generally agree it's too early to say what might happen at the convention.

His friends believe the emphasis moderation would strengthen the

Music Pupils From School On Program For Chapin Club

CHAPIN—Mrs. James Anderson was hostess Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 8, to the Chapin Woman's club. There were 15 members and nine guests present. Roll call was atomic energy for peace.

Mrs. Lloyd Anderson was in charge of the program and introduced Miss Elizabeth Paul, vocal instructor for school unit 27 who presented Miss Marian Deitrich who sang, "Trees" and "My Task." She also presented two groups of her students, a girls trio, Wanda Mattes, Gloria Fisher and Shirley Ginder, who sang, "Three Little Maids," "Sympathy" and "Carolina Moon." A boys quartette, Larry Werries, Tom Newby, Eddie Goffinet and Carroll McGinnis, sang, "Who Did" and "I Had a Dream."

The numbers had the accompaniment of Miss Paul and Robert Wegehoff. After the program the president, Mrs. Anderson, conducted a brief business session. During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Amy B. Onken on Nov. 22.

News Notes

Illinois' Mitchell May Be Midwest's 2nd 'Hopalong Cassady'

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — With Ohio State's Howie (Hopalong) Cassady an undeniable All-America choice in this, his last season, the question arises will the Midwest have another storybook halfback again very soon.

Yes, indeed, according to several members of the regional AP All-America Board.

And it may be no later than next season if Bobby Mitchell, Illinois' sensational sophomore, weathered the pressure of sudden headlines.

The board concedes that Mitchell began his amazing Illini capering too late this season for serious All-America consideration.

But even his two performances as pinchhitter for injured Harry Jefferson, against Michigan and Wisconsin, semi sports writers comparing Mitchell with J. C. Caroline, Buddy Young and even the immortal Red Grange as a running stylist.

Against two of the best Big Ten defensive teams, Mitchell rambled 201 yards in 24 carries for a 12.1 average and scored 27 of Illinois' last 36 points.

Said Henry McCormick of the Wisconsin State Journal: "One of the most dangerous runners ever to play in Camp Randall."

The Midwest board's consensus is that Cassady should be an odd-on All-America choice and that quarterback Earl Morrall of Michigan State shouldn't be far behind.

In the line, the guards seem to offer the Midwest's greatest All-America potential with Ohio State's Jim Parker, Iowa's Cal Jones, Michigan State's Buck Nystrom, and Notre Dame's Pat Bisceglia all solidly supported.

Notre Dame's Jim Mense, at center, and Don Schaefer, at fullback; Norm Master, Michigan State tackle; and Pudue's great passing quarterback, Len Dawson, were rate highly.

Newcomers added to the list were end Lamar Lundy of Purdue; guard Dick Hill of Michigan; and end Rod Hanson of Illinois.

1956 Basketball Sites Announced By Al Willis

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Sites for the first round games of the 1956 state prep basketball tournament were announced Wednesday by the Illinois High School Assn.

They are the fieldhouses at Northwestern and Bradley universities, high school gymnasiums at Moline, Decatur, Hinsdale, Salem and West Frankfort, and the State Armory at Springfield.

Albert Willis, executive secretary of the association, said formal invitations to serve as hosts for the first round games were extended at a meeting here with principals and athletic directors of the eight schools and that all of them indicated they would accept.

The right first round games are to be played March 13. The winners will advance to Huff Gymnasium at Champaign, where the quarterfinals will be played March 16 and the semifinals and finals March 17.

In recent years all state tournament games were played at Huff Gym.

Willis said the meeting Wednesday also discussed the problem of distribution of tickets for the first round contests, admission prices and other arrangements. No decisions were reached on these matters, he said.

DODGERS RECEIVE CABLEGRAM FROM KING OF IRAQ

BROOKLYN (AP) — The news of the Brooklyn Dodgers' World Series victory last October has finally reached half way around the world.

The Dodgers' front office Wednesday received a cablegram from Baghdad which read:

"Happy to hear of your success in the World Series. Wish you always well."

The cablegram was addressed to the club president, Walter O'Malley, and signed by King Faisal of Iraq.

Three years ago, when the Middle Eastern monarch visited the United States, he watched his first baseball game from O'Malley's private box.

NAME COACHES FOR NORTH, SOUTH GAME DECEMBER 26

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Wally Butts, veteran coach at the University of Georgia, was named Wednesday to coach the South team of the Mahl Shrine college all-stars football game to be played here Dec. 26 in the Orange Bowl.

Hugh Daugherty of Michigan State has been signed to coach the North team but another coach may have to be named if Michigan State should get a bowl bid.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (P)—The stock market edged ahead Wednesday in an inconclusive manner as it did Tuesday.

The move put it still closer to the magic level of the record high of last September.

Actually, prices Wednesday were quite mixed. All trading attention was on individual issues rather than on groups of stocks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 10 cents at $180.30. It was up 30 cents Tuesday. The average now stands only $120 under the historic high mark of $181.50 established Sept. 23.

The day after, the President suffered a heart attack, a Saturday. The following Monday, the market slumped in the greatest one-day fall since the fatal days of 1929. It kept on going down until Oct. 11. Since then it has retraced just about all of the lost ground.

All three component of the average Wednesday were up 10 cents, the industrials, rails and utilities.

Volume amounted to 2,460,000 shares as compared with 2,560,000 shares traded Tuesday.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange on volume of 730,000 shares as compared with 770,000 Tuesday.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (P)—Corporate bond trading slacked off Wednesday with prices of rails and utilities shading off. Trading was without any outstanding feature.

U. S. Government bonds were firm for the first time in more than a week.

Corporate volume declined to $3,684,000 par value from $3,690,000 Tuesday.

CANTON, Mo.—Miss JoAnn Ruth Crawford, Jacksonville, and Norman Bruce West, Arvarez, are two of the eight senior students at Culver-Stockton College who have been chosen to be listed in the publication, Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Students are first recommended by the Student Senate, with the final recommendations and selections based on superior qualities of scholarship, participation and leadership ability.

Miss Crawford is a member of Kleg Players, Dome Staff, Gamma Upsilon, Debate, Pi Kappa Delta, served as vice president of Panhellenic Council, and as secretary and president of Associated Women Students. She was a cheerleader and member of Alpha Xi Delta Sorority. She was attendant to the Homecoming Queen 1954, and Homecoming Queen 1955.

Mr. West is a member of Kleg Players, Gamma Upsilon, band, dance band, Megaphone Staff, Homecoming Gym Technician, Encore Club, and has played football and basketball. He has served as treasurer and president of his fraternity, Mu Theta Nu.

"The Guardsman" At Little Theater November 18-19

The Speech and Dramatics Department of MacMurray College will present the play, "The Guardsman," in the Little Theater November 18 and 19. The performance is open to the public.

The cast, under the direction of Dr. Ray Holcombe, includes the following characters:

The Actor is played by Jim Symons, a freshman at Illinois College. This part reveals the desperate efforts made by some actors to lead a normal life in spite of being constantly exposed to public view. The Actor's wife—The Actress—is played by Bonnie Payne, a junior at MacMurray College from Glenview, Illinois. In this part Miss Payne poses as an empty-headed, vain, frivolous and artificial person.

The Critic is played by Charles Alcorn, a graduate student at MacMurray College from Lakeland, Florida. He portrays the saucy, worldly-minded critic "Mama" is another humorous character role played by Carol Jacobson, junior at MacMurray College from Kaukauna, Wisconsin. The Creditor is played by Bill Lewis, a senior in the Jacksonville High School. Completing the cast is the role of An Usher, played by Nancy Stromberg, a freshman at MacMurray from Shaker, Ohio.

This delightful comedy is a Moliére play and was made famous by Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne.

Zeta Beta Doll Profits For Our Saviour's Fund

The Zeta Beta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi had a dinner meeting Monday, Nov. 14, at the Southern Aire on South Main street.

After the meal a business meeting was held and included reports on the recently sponsored card party at the YMCA. An annual project of the chapter is the purchase, dressing and giving of a beautiful doll. This year's doll has already been purchased and its wardrobe is in the process of being made. The doll will be given away in December. The proceeds will be given to the Our Saviour's hospital building fund.

Members attending were Marjorie Choate, Margaret Murphy, Dorothy Schering, Janelle Ogle, Mari Shannon, Arleen Reside, Donna Ward, Doris Wegehoff, Sylvia Daniel, Betty Mosley, Elizabeth Lohmeyer and Muriel Taylor. The sponsor, Esther Ingoglia, was also present.

Arcadia Club Will Promote Safer Driving

Jacksonville's 5,000 gas consumers will have the greatest protection possible from any interruption of service when the new $300,000 standby and peak shaving plant on East State street is completed, William R. Hawkins, Jr., area manager, said Wednesday.

The two-acre installation at the east end of State street, near the city limits, is scheduled for completion in January.

"Jacksonville and South Jacksonville could be served for at least 72 hours from the new plant that is being built should there be a break in lines of the Panhandle Eastern or other emergencies," Hawkins explained when asked about the construction work now in progress.

Huge propane storage tanks above ground will be used in the gas-making plant, which will operate automatically.

The plant includes five 30,000 gallon tanks and two 18,000 gallon tanks. Two tanks which have been part of the equipment at the old gas plant on South Main street have been moved to the new site.

Hawkins said the new plant will be used to make gas on peak days, thus giving the community a steady and adequate supply in the face of unexpected demands or breaks in the big line which brings gas to the city.

The East State street plant is being built within a short distance of the connecting valves of Panhandle Eastern, from which the Illinois Power Co. draws its supply, and the local distribution system.

The Peacock Corp., of New Jersey, is contractor for building the new plant.

Charles Wagstaff Of Waverly Dies In Springfield

WAVERLY — Charles Wagstaff, 84, who had been cared for in a nursing home in Waverly for some time, died Tuesday morning at St. John's Hospital in Springfield.

He was born March 14, 1871.

Surviving is one son, Walter Wagstaff of St. Louis.

The body is at the Neece Funeral Home in Waverly, where services will be held at 3 p.m. Friday. Burial will be made in Murrayville cemetery.

Democrat Hopeful Sees Swing Away From Republicans

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. (P)—Herbert G. Paschen, mentioned as a possible Democratic candidate for governor, said Wednesday night that elections this month in other states showed there is a "groundswell of public sentiment back to the Democrats."

Referring to the outcome of voting in Pennsylvania, New England, New Jersey, Kentucky and Indiana, Paschen told a Jersey County Jackson Day dinner:

"The elections demonstrated decisively that the Republican victory in 1952 was built on the slender reed of a single personality. And with that personality excluded, the people turn anew to us for good and efficient government."

Paschen, who is Cook County treasurer, criticized the Republican state administration for "gross errors in its handling of toll roads, state institutions, gambling and truck overweights."

Frost will also answer questions during and after the meeting. This meeting has been arranged by W. H. Brown, Jr., county farm adviser and is one of especial interest to all farm operators in the county.

The annual convention of the Illinois Agricultural Association is being held in Chicago Nov. 14 to Nov. 17 and attending from Greene county are Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kuhline, Mr. and Mrs. Finney Doyle, Charles R. Hayes, Thomas Ford, Lynn Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Masters and J. W. Martin, Greenfield; Froman Holtzwarth, Eldred; S. F. Wehrly and Louis Varble, Kane; J. E. Brodmakle, Charles Biles, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. August Pohlman, Paul Preissler, Henry Kirbach, Carrollton; W. H. Brown, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Seely, White Hall.

FAMILY NIGHT SERVICE FRIDAY AT MURRAYVILLE CHURCH

The Murrayville Baptist Church extends an invitation to each church family and all others interested in mission work to attend the "Family Night" service Friday night, Nov. 18, at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

The first part of the program will be given over to the various groups as they meet for a mission lesson. Following this a film is to be shown on rescue mission work in Chicago. At the close of the service refreshments are to be served in the church basement.

The Rev. Burdell O'Neill is the pastor of the church.

Parents To Learn "Y" Program Opportunities

To acquaint parents of junior high and high school age students of the opportunities and program, the purposes and activities of the YMCA Youth Center a Youth Week has been arranged for Nov. 27 to Dec. 3.

A steering committee of parents met Monday night at the Center and discussed plans for adults to study and discuss together the needs of youth and the problems they encounter in the Jacksonville area.

Youth Week is a cooperative program offered by the YMCA and the Community Development department of Illinois College under supervision of Severyn Bruyn.

Mrs. Thomas Parlier was hostess to the Arcadia Woman's club at the Arcadia hall, with 25 members and four guests. Mrs. Leland McGinnis, Mrs. Clara Mason, Mrs. Tillie Schone and Mrs. Harold Kruse, in attendance.

The president, Mrs. Harold Roff, opened the meeting with the group singing "America." Mrs. Loren Burrus led the pledge and conducted the devotional period with a verse "Thanksgiving Message."

She then repeated a Thanksgiving prayer. Roll call was answered by "My Favorite TV Program."

Mrs. Oren Mallicoat, treasurer, read the report of the budget committee showing cash payments to all required projects of the Federation. The committees for the open meeting announced that plans for the turkey dinner for members and their families, were complete.

A letter from the state president, Mrs. Don Williams, which pointed out the highlights of the projects for all club participation for this year, was read by the secretary, Mrs. Lark Buck. A safety project, which asks each club to have a program on safer driving was accepted by the club members. A scroll was signed by all members present as a pledge to safer driving.

The program committee, Mrs. Clarence Mallicoat and Mrs. Oren Mallicoat presented the program "Home Charming" by slide pictures in beautiful colors, and projected by Mrs. Harold Kruse of Arvarez. Explanations which accompanied the slides were read by Mrs. Oren Mallicoat. Mrs. M. C. Thompson won the door prize. Contests conducted by the program committee were won by Mrs. Harold Roff.

The luncheon tables were decorated with fall colors and lovely fall flowers. The hostess served ice cream, cake and coffee during the social hour.

The Christmas meeting, with a gift exchange, will be held at the Arcadia hall on Dec. 14. Mrs. Robert Daniels will be hostess to a potluck dinner.

James Sinclair Dies In Wrights Services Friday

Burial will be made in Pine Tree Cemetery, Patterson.

The body is at the Mackey Funeral Home in Roodhouse.

Ruth E. Wilmert, 72, Of White Hall Dies In Decatur

WHITE HALL — Mrs. Ruth Evans Wilmert, 72, died Wednesday morning at St. Mary's Hospital in Decatur where she had been a patient for a week.

She suffered three strokes three years ago, and has been cared for in various nursing homes since then.

Burial will be in Grace Cemetery, Chapin.

The remains are at the residence, and will be taken to the church one hour before the services.

Mrs. Mary A. Bruner

GREENFIELD — Funeral services for Mrs. Mary A. Bruner of Rockbridge will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Baptist church in Rockbridge. The Rev. Ward Spencer will officiate. Burial will be made in Rosehill cemetery at Greenfield.

Mrs. Tessie Tribble

Funeral services for Mrs. Tessie Clayton Tribble will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Franklin Christian Church with the Rev. Henry Spencer of Jacksonville officiating.

Burial will be made in Franklin Cemetery.

The body is at the Neece Funeral Home in Franklin.

First Tournament This Weekend For I.C. Debate Team

ILLINOIS COLLEGE will participate in its first debate tournament of the 1955-56 season this Friday and Saturday at Bradley University.

The national debate topic for the year is "Resolved, that the non-agricultural industries of the United States should guarantee their employees an annual wage."

John Woulfe and George Reilly will uphold the affirmative in competition at Bradley, while Bob B. Williams and Mark Arroll will defend the negative.

In other divisions of the forensic tournament, John Schmidt will compete in oratory. Reilly will participate in after-dinner speaking and Arroll will compete in discussion.

The season's after-dinner speaking topic is "Do It Yourself," and the discussion problem is "How can we best implement the decision of the Supreme Court for racial integration in the public schools?"

The team will be accompanied to Bradley by professors Lloyd P. Dudley and Donald Polzin of the Illinois College speech department.

Walfred Trumbo is president of the Men's Brotherhood and Margaret Mitchell is chairman for the Season's Tea. M. Boyde Patrick is pastor of the church. All church members and friends are cordially invited to both gatherings.

UNCOOPERATIVE COTTON CROP

The best laid plans of men and governments can go awry. This nation has been overproducing cotton for a good while, and the Agriculture Department has been trying to get producers to cut down.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson called for a 1955 output of 10 million bales. Acreage controls were instituted with this goal in mind. The controls were the principal lever.

But now the department says 1955 cotton output may come to 14,843,000 bales, nearly 50 per cent more than Benson's objective.

Yields have climbed to record highs. The 10-year average is 357 pounds per acre, but for 1955 the figure will be 431 pounds—only 69 pounds less than a bale an acre. In some sectors production has hit a two-bale-an-acre level.

Nature has intervened this year to account for some of this amazing output. Favorable weather and growth factors have marked most of the cotton season.

But there is more. As acreage allotments are cut, the growers retire their poorer lands and heap fertilizer and pest-and-weed controls on good soils to increase production per acre by leaps and bounds.

Benson will try again in 1956, with perhaps another four per cent cut in acreage. But anyone would be foolish to bet we won't wind up with a still higher yield next season. There must be some other way.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Talking up a storm, Gary Cooper today denied he is merely a "yep" man.

This shatters another Hollywood tradition. Cooper is supposed to be the town's worst talker. A conversation with him is reputed to be the closest thing to a monologue, with Coop supplying only occasional "yep."

The question was put to him pointblank: Is he just a "yep" man?

"I don't think so," he replied. "I like to talk — when I have something worth talking about."

"Besides, 'yep' is a pretty positive word. You can't get by in this business if you say 'yep' all the time. You've got to learn to say 'nope.'

"For instance, I didn't do a picture for a year between 'Vera Cruz' and 'The Court Martial of Billy Mitchell.' I guess I read between 50 and 60 scripts. I turned them down."

"The trouble in this business is that when you achieve a certain success, they want you to repeat it. The majority of the scripts that are sent to me are Westerns, and most of them are bad. They might be good for somebody, but they are things I have done before. Not just the plots, but whole scenes."

"I'm the kind of a guy who has to do new things. If I don't have enthusiasm for what I'm doing, I give a lousy performance. That isn't good."

See—the guy can talk! As a matter of fact, he'll rattle along at a pretty good clip, if he's interested in the topic. But if he's asked questions he thinks are silly or trivial an A-bomb couldn't blast a comment out of him.

Cooper said the "yep" reputation became attached to him after he did an Edgar Bergen radio show in which he spoke only the affirmative monosyllable. He did a similar turn as guest star in a Dennis Morgan-Jack Carson film. No doubt the legend has grown because of the tight-lipped heroes he has played on the screen. Like many top stars, he knows what can be achieved by an economy of dialogue.

Although eye care cannot improve the mentality of feeble-minded children, it can prevent children of normal intelligence from developing mental difficulties as the result of poor vision, says the Better Vision Institute.

Communication

Dear Editor:

Mr. Albert Nienhiser, the losing candidate for commissioner of Morgan County in our recent election, deserves commendation for his patriotism and good citizenship in running for office on the ticket of the party out of power.

His splendid showing in his home section of the county is a fine tribute to him and will, I hope, encourage him to make the race again.

If 18,000 of Morgan County's voters, instead of 5,000, had voted, I'm sure that Mr. Heaton, the successful candidate would have been much happier in his job, for he would have had the assurance that he was elected by a true majority of the people, rather than by a majority of the small percentage voting.

Experts say that the "Let George do it" attitude in elections is responsible for a great deal of the trouble in the world at the present time, and it could happen here!

When less than one third of the eligible voters vote in Morgan County's most important election, we are not having representative government, and the fault does not lie with our elected officials but with the apathetic, don't-care citizen who does not cast his ballot.

Very sincerely yours,

Margaret D. Ferry

When You See These Signs Your Girl Is Growing Up

Unmistakable signs that your daughter has left childhood behind for good:

When she looks into a closet filled with clothes and says disconsolately "I haven't got a THING to wear."

When she keeps changing the way she wears her hair.

When she asks hopefully, "Who is it?" when you tell her she is wanted on the telephone and her face falls if it is JUST A girl.

When she can stand in a store going through rack of dresses and unerringly pull out the dress that is just right for her in color, cut, etc.

When she is annoyed that someone else has a coat or dress or sweater exactly like the one she just picked out for herself.

When she gets a patient look on her face as you remind her of the time you expect her to be home from party.

When she starts borrowing your accessories.

WINDOW SHOPPING ANOTHER SIGN

When she stops to window shop every time she passes a dress shop.

When she checks and re-checks a guest list for a party to make sure that everyone who has a reason to be on the list is on it.

When it is a "best friend" instead of her parents who gets all the details of her personal life.

When she starts putting all the expression two words can hold into the protest, "Oh, MOTH-er."

When she learns to wait for the proper moment to make a request or reveal a bit of unwelcome news.

When she is no longer completely convinced that a thing is so just because her parents think it is.

When these things happen you can no longer kid yourself that your daughter is still "just a child." She is already learning the ways of a woman.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chief Justice Earl Warren can hardly escape some political indigestion if he ever tries to eat the words he used in saying he is not a presidential candidate. They were pretty emphatic.

He said his decision was "irrevocable" under any "circumstances or conditions." President Eisenhower sounded pretty emphatic too back in early 1948, four years before he ran, in saying he wouldn't run. He said he was "positive."

In 1952, before he accepted the Democratic nomination, Adlai Stevenson said he didn't want it. But his statements, looking back on them now, didn't sound as convincing as Warren's or Eisenhower's. He never quite closed the door.

Whether Warren likes it or not—and he is reported to have told friends privately he doesn't like it a bit and won't change his mind—he is constantly being mentioned as the man the Republicans may have to call on in 1956.

Warren made his renunciation of political ambitions back in April 1955 when there was still reason to believe Eisenhower would seek the President's heart attack made it unlikely he would, or could, run again.

If Eisenhower doesn't run, and if the Republicans think their only chance is with Warren, he will be under heavy pressure to change his mind. He hasn't been asked publicly what he would do if his party drafted him in 1956.

The 64-year-old Warren, in politics since 1923 and three times governor of California, was made chief justice of the United States by Eisenhower in 1953.

He issued the following statement last April after a nationwide poll reported he was the top choice of Republican and independent voters if Eisenhower decided not to run:

"My name has been used as a possible candidate for the presidency. This has been a matter of embarrassment to me because it reflects upon the performance of my duties as chief justice of the United States.

"When I accepted that position, it was with the fixed purpose of leaving politics permanently for service on the court. That is still my purpose. It is irrevocable. I will not change it under any circumstances or conditions."

"Be they few or many, the remaining useful years of my life are dedicated to the service of the Court of the United States, in which work I am increasingly happy."

When a "drift-Eisenhower" move got underway in 1947, the general said, "I don't want anything to do with politics." He went even further than that with a lengthy statement — on Jan. 23, 1948 — part of which said:

"My decision to remove myself completely from the political scene is definite and positive . . . I could not accept nomination even under the remote circumstances that it was tendered me . . . I am not available for and could not accept nomination to high political office."

But after the 1948 elections, when he was again being mentioned as a candidate in 1952, he sounded a little less "positive" than in 1948 and finally ran.

Stevenson was governor of Illinois in April 1952 when he was being looked at as a likely Democratic nominee. He said then "I could not accept the nomination" because he wanted to run for another term as governor.

He kept saying that practically up to the moment he was nominated, and accepted, in the summer of 1952. But he is expected to announce in Chicago today he will try as hard as he can to be nominated by the Democrats again in 1956.

Experts say that the "Let George do it" attitude in elections is responsible for a great deal of the trouble in the world at the present time, and it could happen here!

When less than one third of the eligible voters vote in Morgan County's most important election, we are not having representative government, and the fault does not lie with our elected officials but with the apathetic, don't-care citizen who does not cast his ballot.

Very sincerely yours,

Margaret D. Ferry

Touring Russians Amazed

By U.S. Home Construction

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Robert F. Loftus, who guided the Russian housing mission on its grand transcontinental U. S. tour, had a fine time. It was his idea, in the first place.

Bob's regular job is public relations expert for National Association of Home Builders. It cost NAHB around $15,000 for the Russians' travel. Local builders spent another $20,000 showing the Russians the sights in 14 cities.

Loftus found the Russians smart as whips, shrewd, and possessed of a surprising sense of humor in an earthy sort of way. Tell 'em a traveling salesman story with a few subtleties in it, and they wouldn't get it. But on a good barnyard joke they'd roar.

Crossing Memorial Bridge into Washington, Loftus explained that the big gold horse statue was a gift of the Italian people. Some people didn't like the statues, he said, because the first view of Washington they gave to tourists was the rear end of a horse. The Russians loved it.

IT JUST HAPPENED that Mrs. Loftus was in San Francisco when the tour hit there. Bob took the Russians around to meet her. One of them immediately began to tell her, through the State Department interpreter, that Bob was out every night and came in with lipstick all over his face and collar.

Another of the Russians then chimed in: "This is not so." He said: "Mrs. Loftus is my friend. I will defend him, even if I have to lie."

When the Russians got on airplanes, they immediately demanded all the magazines. They couldn't read a word of English. But they studied all the pictures in the advertisements like crazy.

As far as housing is concerned, Loftus fears the Russians are going back home with a pretty confused idea. Everybody tried to explain everything. But the housing concepts of the two countries are right out of two different worlds.

The Russians were all engineers and construction men, and good ones. But there is no private home building industry in Russia.

AT THE START OF THE TOUR, when the Russians were being driven around new U. S. middle-class suburban housing developments, they didn't believe what they saw.

They thought all the pretty little houses were the summer country homes of millionaires. Towards the end of the tour, it began to dawn on them that there just couldn't be that many millionaires, even in the United States.

San Francisco, usually regarded as one of the most beautiful cities in the world, left the Russians colder than Siberia. They couldn't understand why the people lived in all those little low houses so close together on the hills. Why weren't big tall apartment houses put up in their place?

The multunit, multistoried houses development like they had in Russia was their concept of what housing should be.

IN RUSSIA the government owns all the land. Through seven ministries, the government builds all the houses and collects all the rents. It's easier for the landlord-government to keep an eye on apartment tenants. Cheaper, too.

THE RUSSIANS KEPT COMPLAINING that American methods weren't modern because they didn't use one-ton concrete blocks. The Russians are still using masonry construction. Our concept of building a steel framework for a big building, then hanging lightweight facing and walls on the frame, just isn't known.

The one sample house which the Russians bought knocked-down for shipment to Russia may have an uncertain fate. It wasn't intended for a Russian winter.

Otherwise, the tour was a cultural exchange" success.

Hair May Be Attacked By Distressing Dermatitis

Miss M., says she is 16 years old,

In Oily Seborrhea the hair and scalp feel greasy and are hard to keep clean, because dirt floating in this means she is going to lose her air sticks and the hair follicles hair. I can imagine that this situation is causing the young lady a of skin and dirt.

The cause of seborrhea is obscure. No living parasite or germ this girl that while the scalp disease known as seborrheic dermatitis may cause some falling out of hair, it is unlikely to lead to complete baldness.

First I should like to reassure this girl that while the scalp disease known as seborrheic dermatitis may cause some falling out of hair, it is unlikely to lead to complete baldness.

Furthermore, if she gets the common cold, she can probably get over all or most of the condition, though I must say, in some cases, it is rather stubborn.

This Brings Us to a discussion of the diseases of the scalp known medically as seborrheic dermatitis. The other principal varieties of seborrheic dermatitis are apparently interrelated. Either variety apparently interrelated. Nothing is left for you to do.

Sorority Keeps Oaklawn Library As 1956 Project

The Jacksonville Alumnae Chapter of Alpha Iota held its regular dinner-business meeting at the Dunlap hotel on Nov. 9. Elizabeth Hardy won the complimentary dinner.

President Lois Brannan conducted the business meeting which followed, assisted by her new officers for the coming year.

New 1956 program books were distributed by the program chairman, Mary Bentena.

Mayna Preston, welfare chairman, gave a report on what her committee planned to do for the coming year. It was decided that Oaklawn Sanitorium's library would still be the chapter's project for the coming year. The members volunteered to assist at the Passavant Gift Shop the first Tuesday of each month for the coming year.

As a Christmas basket will be given to a needy family this year, each member was asked to bring a can of food to the November and December parties.

After the business meeting adjourned the members toured the Illinois Telephone Building.

Members present were Mary Bentena, Lois Brannan, Helen Brown, Donna Burris, Dorothy Crabtree, Virginia Darwent, Louise Deppe, Doris DeShara, Jean

What to do for "TV Stomach"

(Acid Indigestion caused by late-hour "snacks")

If you like to "nibble" and drink while watching TV, look out! Don't overdo it! Too often it may lead to acid stomach and hours of night-time tossing. But not if you take 2 Tums as a "nightcap" whenever distress occurs. Tums neutralize excess acid fast! You sleep better—feel fresher. Always keep Tums handy to counteract gas, heartburn. Get a roll now!

So economical—only 10¢ a roll.

ASHLAND—The following article is from an Alexandria, La., newspaper and concerns Lieutenant Kenneth Reside of Ashland, who is stationed England Air Force Base there:

"The 614th Bomber Squadron has an F84-F jet engine that has flown a total of 221 hours without any repairs. This is a record for the base Tom Thompson, a field representative of the Curtis Wright Corporation stated. This was accomplished through the efforts of Lt. Kenneth Reside, maintenance officer."

KILLED IN EXPLOSION FOX LAKE, Ill. (AP)—John Gadeikis, 60, a junk dealer, was killed Sunday when a metal drum he was cutting with an acetylene torch exploded. The drum formerly contained rubber cement. Officials said the torch apparently ignited traces of the material.

Clio Aid Society December Party At Ogle Home

Mrs. Walter Wheeler was hostess recently to members and guests of the Clio Aid society at the Literberry church. Mrs. Lark Buck, president, was in charge of the meeting which opened with the singing of "Count Your Blessings."

Devotions were offered by Mrs. Hazel Stice who read scripture follower with the Lord's Prayer. The minutes of the September and the October meetings were read. A card of thanks was read from Miss Phyllis Martin.

Twenty members answered roll call with a Thanksgiving verse. During the business meeting a discussion about a new floor covering for the church auditorium was held. A motion that the president name a committee to work with the church trustees on this matter was voted. The committee includes Mrs. Earl J. Myers, Miss Lora Petefish and Mrs. Elizabeth Gray.

Announcement was made of the bake sale for Nov. 19 at Kay's beauty shop and to be sponsored by members of the Friendly class. Mrs. Armeda Illas invited the society to her home for the December potluck. Miss Lora Petefish gave the afternoon program using an interesting article How to Grow Old and Like It.

Two contests were conducted by Mrs. Grace Ogle. The meeting closed with the Clio benediction. The hostess served delicious refreshments to 20 members and three guests, Mrs. Charles Clark, Mrs. Ed Ator and Robin Ann Stice.

HILLVIEW BAPTIST SOCIETY MEETS AT MRS. DAWDY'S HOME

White Hall—Mrs. Virginia Dawd was hostess to members of the Hillview Women's Missionary Society of the Baptist church of that city, on Thursday. Guests included Mrs. Norman Ward, Mrs. Milton Coats and Mrs. Nellie McCormick. Paul Ford was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Seely, president, opened the meeting with prayer and song. Mrs. Mabel Allen gave the lesson which dealt with the Baptist Foreign Mission Board. Mrs. Powell gave a thought on Thanksgiving and freedom. Mrs. Page closed the meeting with prayer.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jennings and Mrs. Powell. Mrs. Violet Powell of Roodhouse will be hostess for the December meeting.

Garden And Art Group Of Waverly At Mrs. Schramm's

WAVERLY — Mrs. Floyd Schramm was hostess of the garden and art department of the Waverly Woman's club, at her home Friday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. Her assistant hostess being absent she was assisted by neighbors, Mrs. Grover Beaver, Misses Stella Mitchell and Alma Moore.

Mrs. George LaRue, the chairman, was in charge and opened the meeting with the pledge to the flag, followed by roll call. There were 18 members present and three guests, Mrs. Grover Beaver, Miss Alma Moore and Stella Mitchell. The club voted to give $5.00 to the Lincoln Memorial Gardens in Springfield, which is a project of the Illinois Federation of woman's clubs, of which Waverly is a member.

Mrs. Winifred Strawn gave a very interesting talk on Floral Prints. She had gotten several books from the Illinois State Library and the wonderful prints shown were beautiful. Herbal prints of the 17th century botanical prints and flower portraits were discussed and shown.

The hostess served chicken salad, nuts and coffee or tea at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. George Brown and Mrs. Tony Deprofio of Springfield spent Friday at the home of Mrs. Deprofio's mother, Mrs. Paul Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones attended the funeral of Mert Jenkins at Hillsboro on Wednesday. He was the husband of a cousin of Mrs. Jones.

HI:
Isn't it interesting to turn to the back page of the monthly magazines and see all the gift ideas. Some of them are really funny—for instance, did you see this one: FOR THE MAN (OR WOMAN) who has everything . . . including acid indigestion. A packet or purse carrier for the famous TUMS roll in 14 kt. gold with diamond initials . . . and only (GET THIS) $295. Of course, there are many other suggestions. One of them is abetter "mousetrap" . . . a glitter with "jewels" and priced at $2. Or bold black bikini loungers daringly created in plush black velvet or sheer nylon only $6.95. . . . I can just see Bill coming home and catching me lounging in something like this. THINK ID RATHER BE FAUGHT DEAD. Here's a good one YOUTH PILLS RX . . . for relief in the distress of milestones from BOCC'S APOTHECARY, Baytown, Texas, and only $1. too.

Well, I know that Christmas is getting nearer all the time I know because Santa, himself, was in this week to have his portrait made. We appreciate his company because now we are not quite snowed as we expect to be in several weeks. We think that we caught him in a very relaxing mood.

What do you think?
In a Chicago paper the other day I saw where they had Christmas cards for sale at $25.00 each . . . of course, they did have others priced per hundred from $19.95 to $39.95. We are happy to tell you that we make photographic Christmas cards and the cost is no way near this. We will take the picture and make you 100 cards for $12.50 if taken at the studio and $14.50 if taken at your home. If you have your own negative the cost is only $0.50 per hundred. Every year we sell thousands of cards so WHY DON'T YOU HAVE SOME MADE THIS YEAR?

Right now is the time to have that Christmas portrait made. There is someone in this beautiful world of ours who would rather have your portrait than any other gift you could give them. Why not call me at 979 right now. Give all of your friends a fine portrait—use our time payment plan to pay for them. THIS IS THE SENSIBLE WAY TO DO YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING.

Shower Honors Mary Lou Beckey At Bluffs Home

BLUFFS—Miss Mary Lou Beckey was honored at a bridal shower Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Tom Brackett, hostess.

The evening was spent playing contests and games with prizes being awarded to the winners.

The guest of honor received many lovely gifts that had been placed on a pink and white decorated table.

At the conclusion of the evening the hostess served ankle food cake with mints, nuts and coffee.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Elmer Stucker and Mrs. John Horror of Jacksonville and Mrs. Eugenie Nienhiser of Chapin. Have you overlooked an important item that affects your family daily? The growing electrical power needs!

Adequate wiring calls for the service entrance to have three wires large enough to provide at least 100 ampere capacity, to serve all your electrical needs today and tomorrow, branch circuits having large enough wires to carry electricity at full power to all lights and appliances, enough convenience outlets, permanent lights and switches.

Consult your electrical contractor for recommendations on how to modernize your home for today's electrical living.

Falling branches often cause damage to electric lines, and interrupt service to your home. That's why it is sometimes necessary to cut branches off your trees—even though we regret having to do it at all. You see, in removing these dangerous branches, our men are protecting you and your property. They are also helping to assure you and your neighbors of the dependable electric service you are accustomed to enjoying—in bad weather as well as good.

The Shirt Story: It's For After Five Fabrics And Styling Have Elegance

The shirt, as developed by designer Digby Morton for Hathaway, is a far cry from the uninspired white blouse. For cross-tailored button down shirt (left), this designer uses white wool taffeta. He likes the three-quarter length sleeve with buttoned cuff, feels that it is both pretty and practical. Fine, soft, corded velvet in soft rose (center) makes shirt with round Italian blouse, the shirt retains, even in elegant fabrics, the kind of detailing associated with the best in men's shirts. But it may be in butter-soft velvet, in a silk Paisley print, in Oxford cloth, fine cotton or a sheer white wool.

Increasingly, it's shown for after-five wear and may be paired with a day-length skirt in velvet convertible collar. Three-quarter length sleeves have two buttons, are adjustable. The tailored cotton shirt becomes a candidate for after-five wear (right) when it's in a rose-printed broadcloth and is worn with a black velvet skirt. This one is in shades of cherry pink, chartreuse and soft gray-green printed on a white ground.

or with a floor-length skirt. French convertible. The tailored neckline is used for evening shirts in fabrics of great elegance.

A really good shirt may cost as much (or more) than a good cashmere sweater. But such a shirt is to be regarded as a wardrobe investment in the same sense as any fashion purchase planned for more than one season's wear.

Merritt WSCS Gives Church Treasury $40

The November meeting of the WSCS of the Merritt Methodist church was held Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 8, at the church. The president Mrs. Reed, was in charge.

The meeting opened with the song "I Need This Every Hour" followed with the Lord's Prayer. The secretary, Mrs. Dolly Lizenby, called the roll which was answered by 10 members. Minutes of the October meeting were read and approved.

Mrs. Verenna Berry gave the treasurer's report. Bills were voted to be paid and a thank you note was read from the Jacksonville State Hospital for the magazines, jewelry and clothing sent to the hospital.

A motion was approved to give half of the proceeds from the chicken supper to the church treasury. Mrs. Millie Hitt gave the devotions and Mrs. Sallie Simpson presented the lesson.

Mrs. Lois Morris gave the spiritual thought, a Thanksgiving prayer. The election luncheon was served at noon with a profit of $40. The meeting closed with the WSCS bene dictio.

TEST CASE
NOGALES, Mexico (AP) — An American tourist came into a liquor store in this border town and asked the proprietor to show some of his wares.

He brought out some bottles, and she asked if they were really 100 proof, as the label said. "Test it," he said.

The woman held a match to the neck of the bottle. She went to the hospital with severe burns.

NORTONVILLE

NORTONVILLE — Mrs. M. B. Dolan left here Saturday morning to return to her home at Yazoo, Miss. after a visit with her mother and husband, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Story. Mrs. Story returned home with her daughter and will spend some time and recuperate from a recently fractured ankle.

Mrs. Robert Whitlock was a patient recently at a Springfield hospital where it was necessary for her to undergo surgery for the removal of two imbedded wisdom teeth. She is reported recovering satisfactorily.

Recent Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Clayton were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hoover of Marion and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Hooven of Pittsfield.

Mrs. Lewis Seymour spent Wednesday night with Mrs. Nellie Phillips in Jacksonville.

Mrs. Beulah German of Bloomington came Monday for a visit with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Van Seymour.

Mr. and Mrs. George McClain called on Mr. and Mrs. William Wheeler at Manchester Saturday afternoon.

Jerry Mulquin and Darryl Seymour accompanied a group of Franklin high school students and some teachers and parents to Chicago for a tour of places of interest over Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Clayton and son, Garry of Nortonville and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Tyvford of near Sinclair, enjoyed a visit with relatives in Kentucky recently.

Some of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Turner from north of Jacksonville spent a recent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Seymour and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Summers and family at Winchester.

Arenzville Young Lutherans Attend Adams Co. Meeting

ARENZVILLE — The Junior Walther League of Trinity Lutheran Church met Monday Nov. 7, with the president Robert Wessler, in charge. The meeting opened with a hymn, followed by a film strip on Martin Luther. Roll call was answered by 16 members. There were 2 guests present, Jean Saylor and Jerry Lovekamp.

Robert Wessler gave a report of the Central Illinois District Walther League convention held Oct. 1-2 in Quincy. On Sunday morning during the convention, the 3 Quincy Lutheran churches held a joint service at the Quincy High School. Following this service Wendell and Robert Wessler sang with the chorus at the choral union concert.

At the convention banquet Sunday night Robert Wessler participated in the program with Jerry Mahoney, pantomime.

The ways and means committee reported that a chili supper will be held on Nov. 30. Copies of the constitution were passed out to the members. The fall zone rally will be held at Bowen on Nov. 20.

The next meeting on Dec. 5 will feature a gift exchange and social meeting.

The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer. Refreshments were served by Gary Schone, Marvel Lovekamp; Carol Leischner and Byron Ommen.

PEOPLE ON THE MOVE

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. John Frederick has given up talking over Sunday School lessons with her daughter. The little girl came home and said, "The teacher told us before people are born they are dust and that they return to dust when they die. Is that true, Mommy?"

Mrs. Fredericks replied that if it was taught at Sunday School it was true. "Why do you ask, honey?"

"Well," the youngster drawled. "I just looked under my bed and someone is either coming or going."
